

ICHTHYS

Enhancing Sea Food Quality and Shelf-life

Newsletter 3 - February 2023

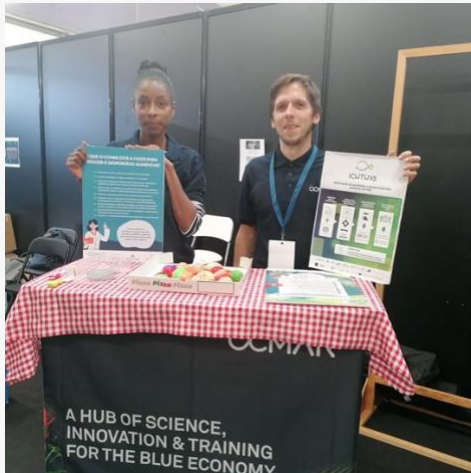

Last month we met in Módena (Italy) to present the most recent developments of our work. The meeting was organized by our partner UNIMORE and was held in the old buildings of the Department of Law in the city centre of Módena. It was a full and very productive day of presentations and fruitful discussions with all partners.

NEW PARTNER

We welcome our new partner: Univiv!

Univiv is an Irish-based SEM company dedicated to bringing to the market technologies based on the “One Health” philosophy that focuses on people, animals and the environment in the areas of antibiotic resistance and viral disease prevention.

We continue to actively spread the word about how ICHTHYS reduces food waste to students!

ICHTHYS website updates

You can now consult all the publications of the project partners in the new "Dissemination" tab!

You also have access to all the communication materials developed during the project that you can use in your outreach activities.
